Dear Ms. John Bailey,

I would urge you to consider the effects of fragrances upon others, especially the use of mislabeling. I notice so many feel fragrances are not harmful. If they were they wouldn't be sold - is a common response. It is also one I held for many years - most of my life.

Would you please consider some notification on such products (ie Eternity) for consumers that there are toxic fragrance components.

Thanking you for your consideration,

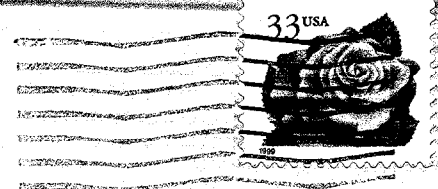

Sincerely,
Linda Anderson
